WHAT IS THE EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY GRANT?

The Educational Opportunity Grant (EOG) program provides $5,000 grants to financially needy, placebound Washington residents as an incentive to complete their first bachelor's degree at an eligible college. The grant's purpose is to encourage students who have achieved junior class standing, by completing a transferable associate's degree or transferable credits, to complete their first bachelor's degree.

AM I ELIGIBLE FOR EOG?

If you meet the following criteria, you may be eligible for the grant.

- Washington state resident.
- Placebound circumstances. The program defines placebound circumstances as having personal barriers, such as family or employment commitments, health concerns, financial inability, or other similar factors, that make it difficult for you to continue your education at an eligible college. In general, placebound students either have to relocate or are unable to relocate to attend college because of personal barriers.
- Junior class standing. Have at least junior class standing (as determined by the college you plan to attend) by the end of your first term of enrollment by completing a transferable associate's degree or an equivalent amount of transfer credits. The college you plan to attend must receive your official, final academic transcripts to determine your class standing.
- Financial need, as determined by the financial aid office at the college you plan to attend.
- You must be a junior or senior in 2009-2010 by either transferring or returning to an eligible college after an absence of one or more years. You are ineligible to receive an EOG at the college you are currently attending.
